With 64 Pieces, New Chief, Concert Band To Perform In Gym Tomorrow Night

By Jim Saxter

Wartburg's 64-piece concert band, under the baton of Ernest Hagen, new director of instrumental music here, will make its first formal concert appearance of the year in the Knights gymnasium tomorrow at 8 p.m.

Hagan

Hagen, who studied music in Europe and directed high school groups in Minnesota and Iowa before accepting his position here, took over the Wartburg band this fall. Under his leadership, the group has made a reputable name for itself in its 17 campus appearances so far this year.

'Finlandia' To Open Concert

Jean Sibelius' rugged and vivid musical picture of Finland will open the program in "Finlandia." Following will be J. S. Bach's "If Thou Be Near," written for his mother, and transcribed for concert band by R. L. Moehlmann.

"Valse Des Fleurs," from Tschaikowsky's Nutcracker Suite, will continue the program, featuring the mellow brass of the French horn. Completing the first half of the program will be another Tschaikowsky favorite, two excerpts from "Symphony Pathetique." The excerpts are regarded as some of Tschaikowsky's finest work and contain a consoling andante melody followed by a fiery march.

Lighter Vein In Part 2

Following intermission, during which a free-will offering will be taken, the band will continue with music in a lighter vein. Starting section two of the program will be Granger's "Irish Tune from County Derry," a lilting British folk melody, dedicated to the memory of Edvard Grieg.

Next will be a selection of Latin American melodies, "South of the Rio" by J. Olivadoti. Tunes included in the melody are "Cielito Lindo," "El Choclo," "Chiapanecas," "La Cucaracha," "La Violetera," "La Sorello" and "El Relicario."

Fillmore March Finale

Eric Hansen's "Little Norwegian Suite" will follow, the band playing the first two movements. Completing the program will be Henry Fillmore's march "His Honor." Fillmore is one of the better known American march composers.

A new set of cathedral chimes and an oriental gong will be used for the first time in the Sunday concert.

'Spirits High'—Hagen

"In spite of a heavy fall schedule, the band is in high spirits and should carry this attitude into concert performance," stated Hagen.

Tomorrow night's concert is the first of two formal appearances the band will make on campus this year. The other will be the annual spring concert, culminating the 10-day concert tour. The group will make an extended trip this year, playing concerts in Iowa, South Dakota, North Dakota and Minnesota.

Regents Okay Dorm Plans; Bids To Be Let In January

Meeting on campus last Wednesday, the Wartburg Board of Regents approved general plans for the proposed women's dormitory and decided to advertise for bids on the new $375,000 building sometime during January.

Bids will be filed by about the middle of February, according to Pres. C. H. Becker, and construction will be started when weather permits, probably April 1.

Work To Take 10 Months

Architectural firm of Rich, Dougher and Woodburn, Des Moines, which was instructed by the board to complete plans by Jan. 25, estimates that the construction of the building will require about 10 months.

If the architect's hopes are fulfilled, the 110-capacity living unit will be ready for occupancy by the beginning of the second semester next year.

Student Union Next

According to an official resolution of the board, the next development project will be the student union building—a commons housing a modern cafeteria and a student social center. The board also resolved to ask the American Lutheran church to approve an allotment from the advance phase of the 1954 budget, to be used in construction of the student union.

Mrs. John Meyer, Smithfield, Neb., was elected to fill the vacancy created by the resignation from the board of Mrs. Walter Zierath, Waterloo. Mrs. Meyer is the former Mrs. Rose Bergstraesser, mother of Myra, a sophomore here, and was employed by the Wartburg public relations office from 1947 to 1950.

KWAR May Expand To Daily Schedule

Daytime, Saturday and Sunday broadcasting are new ventures radio station KWAR is planning for the immediate future, it was announced this week by Station Manager Bob Snyder.

Programming will consist mainly of classical and semi-classical music and announcements. Programs from the National Association of Educational Broadcasters will be re-broadcast, if needed, to fill out the schedule.

Additional broadcasting depends on the completion of the conversion and oscillation system in Grossmann hall. The system would enable KWAR programs to be received on conventional AM bands in that living unit.

The U. S. Treasury department recently began supplying KWAR with the "Guest Star" series, which can now be heard Friday evenings at 9.

Dancing Issue Dropped; Student Voting Close

Campus dancing issue was not brought before the Board of Regents last Wednesday because the results of the student vote on the question were inconclusive, it was announced this week by John Kelley, student body president.

Balloting in convo Tuesday morning indicated that 48 per cent of the student body favors dancing on the campus, while 45 per cent is opposed. The remaining 7 per cent is undecided. Over 70 per cent, however, said they would attend if campus dances were held.

According to Kelley, the committee which was to present the issue before the regents was undecided as to the proper approach to employ. Walter Voecks, chairman of the board, was consulted and he suggested that, in view of the inconclusive vote, the issue be dropped, in which suggestion the committee concurred.

Trumpet Takes Break

Because of Thanksgiving vacation next week, there will be no paper Saturday, Nov. 29. According to the editor's publication schedule, the next TRUMPET will appear Dec. 6.

LSAction Offering Slated For Convo

First of the two annual LSAction offerings will be taken in convo Tuesday morning as part of a national drive sponsored by the Lutheran Student association of America.

Money received in the collection will be used to aid Christian students and provide scholarships for foreign students.

6 Neumann Hymns In New Publication

Six hymns of Dr. G. J. Neumann, vice-president of Wartburg college, appear in the new hymnal of the Evangelical and Reformed church, it was revealed recently.

Included in the hymnal are "Now All Is Still," a Good Friday hymn, and "Healer Divine, Who Walkest Still," on the theme of the healing ministry of Christ.

Armin Haeussler in "The Story of Our Hymns," a handbook to the hymnal, made this comment on Dr. Neumann's works:

"Undoubtedly he is one of our most spiritually-minded poets and a hymn writer who has the faculty of fashioning in meter beautiful and arresting lines. Of all hymns to make their first appearance in our hymnal, 'Now All Is Still' seems to have attracted more attention than any other."

Chi Rho Candlelight Service Plans Set

"Peace on Earth" will be the theme for the Chi Rho Christmas candlelight service, to be presented Dec. 17 at 8 p.m. in the Knights gymnasium, according to Marv Hartmann, junior and chairman of the program.

Ray Martin, instructor in Greek and Chi Rho adviser, will deliver a sermonette, while Fred Boyce, senior and Chi Rho president, will give the invocation, scripture and prayer. Norm Melcherl, sophomore, will lead the candle-lighting ceremony.

Bob Vogel, freshman, will appear on the program as vocal soloist, and the male chorus, conducted by Harley Schmitt, senior, is to sing two anthems. Norm Wente, senior, will serve as organist.

Chi Rho members acting as subchairmen of preparations are Dave Bracklein, junior, publicity; Duane Peterson, junior, stage decorations, and Gene Gauerke, senior, ushering.

APO Initiates Four

Holding its second initiation of the year, Alpha Psi Omega, national honorary dramatics frat, formally accepted four new members Thursday night in the Little Theater. Taken in were Dale Becker, senior, Darrel Alfson, Millie Schulz and Fred Gonnerman, sophomores.

League Plans Drive To Sell Magazines

Campus Luther League is planning a drive for the sale of subscriptions to One magazine soon after Thanksgiving, according to Fred Gonnerman, sophomore and co-chairman of the project. With 30 students on the committee each will contact about 19 students and three faculty members.

"I would like to remind everyone that Christmas will be here soon and a subscription to One would make a nice present," stated Gonnerman.

One sells for $2 a year.

Class Goes To Waterloo For 5th Show In Weekly Broadcast Series On KXEL

By Bob Snyder

Shortly after supper Tuesday evening six neophyte actors from the oral interpretation class, a faculty director and a TRUMPET photographer piled into the college station wagon with their homemade sound effects — destination KXEL, Waterloo—for the fifth in a series of college-produced broadcasts.

Arriving at KXEL's new, spacious studios on the outskirts of Waterloo at 7, the broadcasters immediately set to work in the studio. First, the cast members had to remove their shoes, so that all footsteps would be silenced. The actors grouped themselves around the mike and voice levels were checked and positions directed by Ray Wilderman of the speech department.

Sound Effects Set Up

Meanwhile, Bob Snyder was setting up all the sound effects required. As usual, the instruments used in the noise-making setup did not even closely resemble the sound pictures created. Fred Lutz, TRUMPET camera-fiend, was hopping around on chairs, getting actors to pose properly for his action shots.

At 7:15 the theme started to play, the red light flashed, the director pointed his finger and the announcer made his preliminaries. After a little interlude music the play was under way. Cast members included Tennie Wuebbens, sophomore, Con Guetzlaff, Ginnie Wisbek, Anna Diers and Marvin Schumacher, all seniors.

15-Minute Program Aired

The result of the babel was 15 minutes of enjoyable listening for KXEL's audience in northeastern Iowa, presented by the students and staff of Wartburg college.

Programs began Oct. 14 with a "kickoff" broadcast featuring President C. H. Becker, Dr. William Schmidt of the Board of Christian Higher Education and Dr. A. W. Swensen of the Wartburg chemistry department. Since then programs have been presented by the athletic department, World Affairs Forum and the Choralaires. Shows in the immediate future will feature the music department, foreign students and counseling.

Arrangements for the programs were made with Em Owen of KXEL by the school radio committee under the guidance of Norm Fintel, public relations director. All planning and producing is done by this committee.

Eleanor Stender Picked

Eleanor Stender, freshman from Dunkerton, was named winter sports queen by the "W" club Thursday night. Chosen as attendants were Lois Mueller, New Auburn, Minn., and Delores Gayer, Rock Valley. The queen will be crowned between halves of the Wartburg-St. Mary's basketball game Dec. 8.

'Pinky' Will Unreel Tonight In Theater

"Pinky," starring Jeanne Crain and Ethel Barrymore, will be shown tonight at 7:30 in the Little Theater.

The movie shows racial prejudice as it affects the life of a light-complexioned negro girl and the inward struggle she goes through in making the choice between marrying a white doctor and continuing the work of aiding colored people of the south.

Tillmanns' Story Used

An article by the Rev. Walter Tillmanns, of the department of modern languages here, written on Staupitz, a figure of the Reformation, was published in the Oct. 29 issue of the Lutheran, official news magazine of the United Lutheran church.

We Still Need Those Signs!

It's student body project time again. In a few weeks students will choose their project for the year from a list of several possibilities. Right now Chet Nerenhausen, project chairman, is busy doing research on potential undertakings.

Among those which will be submitted to the students for approval is a perennial suggestion—the erection of highway billboards advertising Wartburg college. Like the other possible projects, this one also depends on the results of research now being done. But indications are good that it will be included on the ballot.

The idea has been tossed about frequently during the past few years, but has never quite reached the stature of a full-fledged project. A few times it was considered, then shelved because another group was planning to undertake the venture, and at least once it lost out in its own right after reaching the final ballot.

But this project refuses to play dead—it's back with us again. Looks like the only way we'll kill it is to adopt it. So if you see "highway billboards" listed on that ballot, mark it quickly, then hope a lot of others do the same thing.

To be really successful, this project should result in four signs—two on highway 3 east and west of town, and two on 218 north and south of town. Because of their expense, four signs probably could not have been acquired in any ordinary project. But the situation is different this year. First, the traditional two semester projects are being thrown together into one, and second, last year's second semester venture left us with a balance of over $300 to spend this year.

So it could be done. Assuming that present guesses aren't too far off, four fancy, 6 x 7 billboards could be purchased if every student would come through with one dollar when his solicitor contacts him. Think it over. Wartburg is one of the few colleges in Iowa which doesn't take advantage of this method of advertising.

When you hit Dad for that loan over Thanksgiving vacation, ask for an extra buck, hold onto it and then vote for highway signs when they slap a project ballot in your hands.

Why Just 1 Thanksgiving?

Even though the weather gives us no indication of the fact, one glance at the calendar shows that Thanksgiving is less than a week away.

This, of course, means vacation from classes, a brief sojourn with our families and the inevitable turkey on the table Thursday noon. These are all welcome and necessary things, as they give us a little break from our daily routine. But more than this, Thanksgiving offers us the opportunity to pause and consider our blessings.

Thanksgiving should remind us of the many things we possess but take for granted—home, freedom, education and the countless material necessities. Nevertheless, this day of thanks can be overemphasized.

Too many people forget that Thanksgiving is not the only day of the year on which we should express gratitude to God for his goodness. We receive the benefits of His love throughout the year. Then why do we fail to show gratitude to Him more often?

Thursday is Thanksgiving day, an admirable custom inspired by the Pilgrims, but let's not forget Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday or any other day of the year—they're thanksgiving days too.

POLITICAL INQUIRY

H-Bomb Newest Worry

In the gray of the morning, July 16, 1945, the first atomic bomb was set off at Alamogordo, N. Mex., thus initiating the Atomic era. A week ago the state department officially announced the birth of the H-bomb, perhaps a thousand times more destructive than the old A-bomb.

The atomic energy commission assured the public that development and research are being continued on still more powerful and destructive weapons. Does this mean that human safety is becoming inversely proportional to the distance from our earth?

Even people who have experienced a modern war, with its now comparatively harmless TNT bombs, can hardly have a true conception of what the A-bomb and the more potent H-bomb can do. Huge areas of crisped earth, the only true witness of the intense heat produced by the missile, should certainly make us wonder.

However, we should rejoice that our scientists, and not those of Russia, who already surprised us in building an A-bomb much sooner than expected, discovered this new tool of destruction. Otherwise we all might now be suffering from an acute case of heat rash.

The birth of the H-bomb, along with the promise of still more lethal weapons, also has a positive implication. Can you imagine two men starting a fist-fight if both of them had dynamite sticks clutched in their fists? The more horrifying our outlook becomes, the more seriously we are going to seek for a compromise. There are not too many people, even on the other side of the Iron Curtain, who relish committing suicide.

Political and social leaders of our age now have an ever-increasing load of responsibility on their hands. To unleash atomic energy for destructive purposes may mean the end of mankind. To direct this unlimited source of power to purposeful, constructive channels is a challenge to us all.

There are only two alternatives—to perish or to progress!

Haver's Haven

BY JERRY

For those of you who are spending your first winter in Waverly, I would like to hand out some advice. It gets cold here and you'll find an overcoat comes in handy. If you can't afford an overcoat, take out a student loan. (Possibly by next winter it will be decided whether or not you're reliable.) At any cost, prepare for the worst. When the farmers in Bremer county get up on a crisp winter morning to milk their cows (or as Bob Vogel says it, "kaows"), they don't get milk; they get Dairy Queens.

We have some talented couples here at Wartburg. Just the other night I was sitting in the darkness watching the TV set, and I could hear two people playing checkers in the background. I knew they were playing checkers because I heard the girl say, "Another move like that and I'll crown you."

• • •

Speaking of the TV room, I'm reminded of a statement made by Lowell Hemken the other night. He said, "When I take a girl to the TV room to watch television, the set always goes on the blink. Now if some faculty member would be on hand at all times to provide entertainment everything would be solved." He's a transfer student and I don't think he realizes the full significance of the game room.

Last Sunday night I walked into the Den to eat supper and there stood 12 workers. Not five or six as usual, but 12. Then I counted the customers and ya know what? There were 12 of them, too. One to a customer. Come now, this idea of snappy service can be carried too far.

Every Tuesday and Thursday morning a group of Wartburg man leave their warm beds on second floor and tromp down the halls to shave. The rest of us don't mind the fact that alarms start going off at 4 in the morning, but when they tell the profs they've been up gunning since 4, they're going too far. (I'm writing this for those profs who have been disillusioned in the past, so they may now realize the facts.) You see, these individuals go to bed right after chapel, get up at 4, leave in search of ducks, pheasants or anything that has wings, and come back just in time for classes.

Ever since the streets of Waverly donned Christmas decorations I've been confused about which vacation is coming next week. I discussed the matter with some of my friends, but they were undecided too. If it turns out to be Thanksgiving we have three days off. But on the other hand if it's Christmas already we get two weeks. No wonder people are frustrated. The best policy is to take two weeks regardless.

STUDENT EXPLAINS MEANING OF LSACTION

Dear Editor:

We are Christian students and we are on the campus of a Lutheran college. Because of the latter we are considered members of the Lutheran Student Association of America. Because of the former fact we have the responsibility of helping as much as we can other Christian students who are in need. Through LSAction, the stewardship program of LSA, we have an opportunity to do this.

Two LSAction offerings will be received during the year. The first of these is planned for convocation next Tuesday, the second during Lenten season.

Money received through LSAction is used in many ways. The following are just a few:

1—to help in the telling of Christ to students all over the world, especially to those in non-church colleges.

2—to aid Christian students from abroad in getting an education here.

3—to give assistance to native theological students in countries which are primarily heathen.

4—to offer scholarships to needy students from India, Indonesia, Africa and Palestine.

Thus, LSAction is just what it implies—action taken by Lutheran students on behalf of Christ!

LS council president

READERS ASKED TO GIVE CLOTHING

Dear Editor:

Lutheran World Relief is asking the help of Wartburg students in a nation-wide Thanksgiving clothing appeal. A drive is being conducted on the campus through Dec. 5.

Christian love compels us to share what we have. Why not look in your closet over Thanksgiving vacation and bring back any articles you aren't using? Boxes will be found in all campus living units and in Luther hall for off-campus students.

The need for clothing is clearly evident in the middle east, Europe, Korea and the orient. Lutheran World Relief is our instrument for witnessing to a world of hate and fear. Our help in the name of Christ will be a blessing to us as well as to those who receive.

Senate Slants

By John Kelley

Senate agreed unanimously last Monday evening to sponsor and conduct a 15-minute program over KXEL, Waterloo, Dec. 9. A special committee was appointed to carry out arrangements.

•

Bob Adix, chairman of the social room committee, reported that plans in cooperation with the activities and the student welfare committees are under way to improve the condition of the social room in the basement of Wartburg hall.

•

Senate approved the appointment of Ruth Adix to serve on the student-faculty publications committee.

•

Final plans were completed for the Wartburg-Road Kings game, which is scheduled for Monday, Nov. 24.

•

Congratulations are hereby extended to the student body for the orderly and rational conduct displayed concerning the dancing issue.

CUB CRACKS

By The Staff

WARNING to all parents of Wartburg students—lock up the refrigerator—we'll be home on Wednesday!

TO DANCE or not to dance isn't the question now—but where?

DOES ANYONE remember if the pencil sharpener at the south-west entrance to Luther hall ever worked?

TEACHERS! When you know it they know it and don't ask you. When you don't know it, they know it and ask you anyway.

WELL, the women finally caught on. Now somebody sell the men. Didn't you notice it Wednesday night? According to the eagle-eyed cashiers in the caf, about 80 per cent of the women passing through were "dressed for dinner."

Knights Open Hoop Year Mon.

By Ted Heinecken

Inaugurating its 1952-53 cage season Monday at 8 p.m. in the Knights gymnasium, Wartburg will match wit and savvy with Bobby Grund's Harlem Road Kings in a Senate-sponsored tilt. Sparked by aged but classy Cleo Johnson, the colored outfit lost only nine games of 161 last season.

Ax Bundgaard's cageteers, with last year's IIAC crown perched temporarily on their heads, are taking part in their only pre-turkey encounter Mondoy, while the Kings traverse to Storm Lake later in the week, facing one of the Knights' league-mates, Buena Vista.

Wartburg's Opening Foes

Knights Not Clowning

Although the gome is an exhibitional affair, the title-intent Knights will probobly leave the clowning to their opponents, and make a serious effort to start the season on the right foot. Employing the precise Drake shuffle, Wartburg will present a well-rounded but lethal offense to the Kings.

Towering pivot-man Bill Adix provides Knight scoring punch in the key, flanked by two lithe forwards, Barry Bomhoff and Ken Riswold. Jack Bostrack is assured of one guord post by dint of his potent set-shots and deceptive speed. If John Kurtt's elbow loses its stiffness by Monday, he'll accompany Bostrack in the back-court. But if the Denver playmaker isn't in shape, next in command is Ted Fritschel.

Burt Top Scorer

Although Johnson is the Harlem squad's chief crowd-pleaser, high-scorer for the Negroes is lanky Stan Burt, former Kansas university ace. Owning an assortment of over 30 different shots, the erstwhile Jayhawker averages well over 22 points per game.

The Road Kings have been organized for 20 years, 13 of which showed Johnson on the roster. Cleo is a master of the dribble and a peerless performer on long set shots. Other veterans who will cavort around the Knights gym are Bud Collins and LeRoy Harteman.

In the preliminary struggle, starting at 6:30, Wartburg's "B" squad runs up against the flying parsons of the Seminary.

Top Hat Drops 4; Ritchie Takes Top

Top Hat, leaders in bowling competition for the past few weeks, was taken to the cleaners Wednesday night by Ritchie Pontiac, moving the four-wheelers into first place. Meyer's Drug slipped into second by copping four from the First National five.

Two bowlers fired "200" games, Jack Schemmel with 205 and Harris Sonnenberg, 201.

Ambassadors, Nomads Remain Unblemished To Pace I-M Cagers

By Erv Riensche

Swinging into the third week of play, the North Hall Ambassadors of the American league and the Nomads of the National league are the only remaining undefeated intramural basketball teams.

The Ambassadors outclassed the Gnu squad last Monday by a 54-29 count. Thursday night they handed Trailer Court a 26-20 defeat. Setting the pace for the National league, the Nomads this week scratched the Vandals, 27-24, and trampled the Squires, 27-16.

Hank Waltmann led in the week's scoring department with a sensational two-game total of 35 points. Chuck Bose of the Barons followed with 30 tallies. Leading the National league was Bill Landt with 24.

Monday's games (American) — Barons 39, Baboons 19; Cavaliers 48, Tanks 22; Ambassadors 54, Gnus 29; MoHawks 28, Serfs 25. (National)—Squires 36, Holy Rollers 23; Sheiks 25, Third Street Rockets 24; Bison 27, Wildcats 26; Nomads 27, Vandals 24.

6 Vets Bolster Mat Chances

By Fred Gonnerman

With six lettermen returning to the mats, Wartburg's grappling squad, under the tutelage of Coach Norm Johansen, once again looks ahead to a promising season.

Monogram winners include senior Keith Beaver at 137 lbs.; juniors Ray Reasland, Bob Dirks and Ev Bloboum at 167, 157 ond 147; and sophomore Paul Reyelts at 157.

Waidler Out Until Jan.

Don Weidler, sophomore letterwinner, is tempororily on the injured list with a dislocated hip. He probobly won't be ready for action till after Christmas, but will be back for the heaviest part of the schedule.

Other candidates on the 19-man squad include seniors Tom Smrcka and Harry Feistner; juniors Lyle Niemeyer and Don Johnson; sophomores Bill Drecktrah, Reuben Schnoidt, Lavern Buldhoupt, and freshmen Kermit Gaughran, Bob Grandahl, Ivan Viegut, Joe Dovison and Arnie Brandt.

Brandt State Champ

At present, standout on the squad is Brandt, last year's Iowa high school champion in his division. He is expected to work in the 147-lb. slot.

Greotest depth ond experience is found in the lower weights, with the most obvious weakness showing up in the heovyweight division. The 123- ond 177-lb. slots also show a decided lack of experienced men.

Season schedule is complete with the exception of the dates for the conference tourney which will take place sometime during March.

Ted Fritschel Cops November Laurels As Top Performer

By Delmer Oltmans

Ted Fritschel, Denver, Col., junior, is the second Wartburg gridman to receive the "Athlete-of-the-Month" award this year. The dark-haired signal-caller was picked by the "W" club as the outstanding football player during the month of November.

Fritschel

Participating in four major sports during his high school career at Greeley, Col., Ted didn't take an octive interest in the pigskin sport until his last two years as a prep.

Having completed his second year in Orange and Black livery, Ted offered this observation on Knight football this fall:

"Our team was more aggressive than its record of 2-5 shows," he stated, "but occasional inconsistency in some games was the reason for a couple of our defeats."

Fritschel, a triple-threat man to opponents offensively, accounted for 214 yards of the total gained by the Knights in the Simpson tilt.

Offering only a modest comment on his enviable performance in the Simpson contest, Ted unhesitatingly remarked, "The Wartburg line furnished plenty of protection for me. I had time to look for my receivers.

"I think we'll be tougher next fall," Fritschel stated before joining a group of his cohorts in the Den for a coke.

10 Sophomores Out As Squires Prime For 20-Game Slate

With 10 sophomores on the roster, this year's hard-court "B" team, coached by Earnie Oppermann, boasts a squad of 26 hoop hopefuls.

Still incomplete, this year's "B" schedule will probably include about 20 games. Luther, Buena Vista, Loras ond ISTC will each meet the Squires twice, according to present plans.

Sophomores working out are Oscar Steinbronn, Barry Kline, Dale Coonradt, Duane Jaschen, Victor Pinke, John Heine, Jim Hummel, Jim Lynch, Russell Miller and Ed Paape.

Freshmen vying for positions are Don Koschmeder, Henry Mehmen, Bob Holm, Stan Kittleson, Jim Mercer, Blayne Burmahl, Larry Beckley, Leo Raatz, Wayne Sander, Wendell Liemohn, Bob Vogel, Charles Johannsen, Gerald Lenguadoro, Bill Waltmann, Glen Yotter and Dave Darnauer.

Probable starting five includes Vogel and Liemohn at guards, Coonradt and Mercer as forwards, with Steinbronn working in the pivot post.

Lettermen Induct 11

Accepting 11 new members Thursday night, the "W" club, lettermen's organization, held its first initiation of the year in the Knights gymnasium. All but two of the new members won their letters in football.

Sophomores initiated were Bob Keister, Bob Adix, Ed Paape, Hank Waltmann, Bill Rosenow ond John Heine. Freshmen were Stan Kittleson, Jerry Lenguadoro, Wendell Liemohn, Rudy Grube and Charles Schumann. Adix lettered in track and Heine in baseball.

BOASTING 19 FAMILIES,

Trailer Court Thrives

AS MINIATURE COMMUNITY

By Maurice Jungck

The old adage "Two can live as cheaply as one" is currently being disproved by the 19 couples living in the college trailer court.

Boasting eight privately-owned trailers, the court is literally a miniature community in itself. Everyone knows what everyone else is doing—a situation that can be traced to two causes. First, the trailers are jammed so close together that one can hear his neighbor scratch his back, and secondly, a grapevine has been perfected which makes the radio seem obsolete.

Specialists of all kinds abound in "Kings Row," which has nearly tripled in population since last fall, when seven couples inhabited the lot south of the Knights gymnasium. If one wants to know something about hunting or dogs, he sees Roy Peterson; music or North Dakota, Marv Schumacher; bowling or the Carnation company, Frank Pieper; "bach-ing" or interior decorating, Tom Wipperfurth, and Greek, Elmer Sprecher.

Mueller Maintenance Man

Russ Mueller acts as maintenance man and also sells baby strollers, a commodity which is finding a lively market at the court.

Dave Osterfund is the unofficial court comedian. He also represents the trailer community on the Knight varsity basketball squad, along with Wipperfurth and Wayne Kuethe.

Four residents—LaVerne Beener, Ray Reasland, Mueller and Peterson—were regulars on Wartburg's football crew this fall.

4 Porches Installed

A building rush developed the past few weeks as four couples, sensing Old Man Winter around the corner, installed porches and windbreaks on their trailers. A small extension for sheltering a clothes-dryer was also added recently to Middle house, which serves as joint shower and laundry room.

Piped-in-water is a luxury enjoyed by only four couples, and they had to furnish labor and parts for the project themselves. In one sense everyone does have running water. It just depends on how fast he wants to dash with the water bucket.

Court Lacks Hot Water

Like every other living place on campus, the court is plagued with a hot-water shortage in the showers on Saturday night. This deficiency, naturally, is always blamed on the opposite sex.

Not enough can be said about the neighborly attitude at the court. When someone wants to move a trailer the word gets around quickly, and everyone usually shows up to lend a hand.

Living in a crowded environment may have its disadvantages, but it's okay in at least one respect—one doesn't have far to go to borrow a cup of sugar.

Larson To Give Recital Tuesday In LT

Larson

C. Robert Larson, of the music department, will present a vocal recital in the Little Theater Tuesday, Nov. 25, at 7:30 p.m., as part of the music faculty series.

Handel's "Alma Mia" and "Waft Her, Angels, Through the Skies" will begin the first section, followed by "In Native Worth and Honour Clad" by Haydn and "Il Mio Tesoro" by Mozart.

Beginning the second group will be Beethoven's "An die Ferne Geliebte" followed by "E Lucevan le Stelle" by Puccini and Massenet's "Ah, Fuyez Douce Image."

Completing the program will be "Let All My Life Be Music" by Spross, "The Time of Parting" by Hadley, "Iris" by Wolf and Hageman's "Happiness."

Larson, a lyric tenor, came to Wartburg from Central college, Fayette, Mo. Previous to this he taught private voice in Chicago. He holds a master's degree from the Chicago Musical college and has studied under Henry Veld of Rock Island, Ill., and Richard DeYoung of Chicago.

Liemohn To Confab

Dr. Edwin Liemohn, music department head, will attend the convention of the National Association of Schools of Music to be held in Chicago Nov. 28-29.

Don Baehr, 1950 Grad, To Address Scientists

Don Baehr, 1950 graduate of Wartburg college and now a departmental head of U.S. Gypsum company at Fort Dodge, will speak at Science club Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in Grossmann hall lounge.

Speaking on the mining, production and uses of gypsum, Baehr will illustrate his presentation with a film. Baehr's firm at Fort Dodge is the world's largest gypsum producer.
